PS 2859
.M62U5

Under the Mistletoe

UNDER THE MISTLETOE

UNDER THE MISTLETOE

BY

ANNIE C. MCQUEEN.

I come to greet you Christmas-day,
And if you like me, then I'll stay.

33

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
COPYRIGHT
OCT 1 6 1887
17639
CITY OF WASHINGTON

HARD & PARSONS:
NEW YORK.

PS2357
.M62 U5

Copyright 1887
Hard & Parsons,
New York.

Fly away birdies,
swift fly away,
Tell everything that you see
That the cheeriest sight for a
Christmas day
Is a dear little rogue like me.

Oh I am the merriest
Bonniest
mite,
That ever came out in the snow.
And I frolic and laugh to my heart's delight,
As tripping along I go.

Come under my mistletoe somebody sweet,

And the daintiest kiss you'll find,

And ask for another,—
I won't say no,
If you're just to my chosen mind

But down in the snow

you'll have to go,

To get under it;—don't you see?

For I'll drag it along wherever I go,

So nobody catches me.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
0 015 863 636 0